Founded in 2016 and based in Riehen, rmp eventservice gmbh has established itself as an exceptional provider of event services, shop-fitting and exhibition stand construction. With a dedicated team of 150 employees, the company operates throughout Switzerland and neighbouring countries, delivering projects that range from intimate gatherings to large scale international trade fairs, concerts, festivals and roadshows. The specialists' distinctive company philosophy – we are one, we are rmp – has engendered a strong sense of unity across the organisation, ensuring that every individual is valued and respected. Despite its size, the company maintains a family-like environment, where appreciation and mutual respect are more than internal values, defining its relationships with clients and partners.

Specialising in building and dismantling event technology and stages, the company's expertise ensures that sufficient manpower and experience are always available, no matter how high the demand or the field of activity of the assignment. By investing in the latest software solutions for project and personnel planning, as well as logistics management, the company ensures frictionless coordination and efficiency. Its partnerships with leading firms in the event industry allow it to stay ahead of emerging trends, integrating the latest innovations into its services, while digitalisation plays a key role in optimising resource management, ensuring smarter coordination and planning.

The judging panel was particularly impressed by the extensive range of services on offer at rmp eventservice, which are adapted according to each clients' individual requirements. Event organisers benefit from their expertise in concerts, festivals, cultural and sporting events, ensuring smooth execution and unforgettable experiences, while trade fair organisers and exhibitors receive comprehensive support, from the planning and realisation of stands to complete exhibition areas. Companies seeking to host corporate events, roadshows, or internal functions find in rmp eventservice a partner that guarantees flawless execution. In addition, the company provides a specialised team of stagehands and technicians for tours and major events, ensuring that concerts, open-air festivals and roadshows run with precision and professionalism.

rmp eventservice excels in event management, combining expertise, innovation, reliability and a strong, family-orientated culture to create unforgettable experiences.
